

A FORTUNE may await you in an Examiner want ad. Read—and use—the classified columns for profit.

Ogden Morning Examiner

And Successors to THE DAILY STATE JOURNAL

VOL. VII.—NO. 133.

OGDEN, UTAH, SUNDAY, MAY 15, 1910.

PRICE 65 CENTS PER MONTH

OPPORTUNITY never knocks at the door of the merchant who doesn't advertise, while to his progressive competitor she sounds like an anvil chorus.

FIST FIGHT MARKS END OF OGDEN ROMANCE

Marital Troubles of Miss Sadie Moran, Who Married Priest, Culminate in Violence.

FATHER RYAN LOCKED UP IN CITY JAIL

Wife Leaves Churchman at Omaha; Angered, He Follows to Home Here, Where Trouble Ensues.

James Ambrose Ryan, erstwhile Catholic priest, Episcopal rector and a proficient Romeo at all times, has broken into the lime-light again, his latest escapade occurring yesterday in Ogden when he discovered the whereabouts of his young wife, formerly Miss Sadie Moran of this city, and attempted by physical strength to reclaim her from the home of her parents.

Ryan's plans, however, went wrong in various ways and resulted in his receiving a whole-some trouncing at the hands of his father-in-law and other male members of the family, and is today locked in a cell at police headquarters nursing sundry bruises and awaiting a possible examination as to his sanity.

The unfortunate love affair of Miss Moran and the Denver priest was the talk of the inter-mountain region a little over a year ago, when the couple eloped for parts unknown, the husband renouncing his vows of celibacy, and the young wife prostrating her family with the notoriety she had gained.

It is said that shortly after the elopement Ryan took his wife to Joplin, Mo., where he was offered various positions in commercial lines. An offer from the Episcopal church, however, proved the stronger attraction as a means of gaining a livelihood, the ex-priest, it is said, remarking at the time, "This preaching business is like taking candy away from an infant, I guess I'll stick to that."

Rumor has it that Ryan did not live happily with his wife, their domestic trouble finally culminating in her leaving him and returning to her parents in Ogden. Ryan was furious, and is said to have advertised a reward of $500 for information regarding her whereabouts.

Nothing was heard from Ryan by his wife until Thursday, when she received a telegram from him at Helper, Utah, saying that he would arrive here Friday. Anticipating that there might be trouble, Mrs. Ryan's father and brother remained at home from their work Friday, and Ryan arrived according to schedule. His demeanor, however, was far from belligerent, and it is said that he gave way to tears in his entreaties for her to return to him. He also asked that he might remove his baggage from his hotel to the Moran home.

All these were denied the man, but as he had not exhibited any ill temper in the matter the father and brother returned to their work yesterday at the S. P. shops.

About 11 o'clock Ryan again visited the Moran home and renewed his demands that his wife return to him. She indignantly refused to entertain the idea, whereupon he grew violent and is said to have created considerable havoc with the house furnishings in his efforts to prevent his wife from telephoning for assistance.

The latter succeeded, however, in running to a neighboring residence, and sent word to the police and her father. The latter arrived first on the scene, in company with a Southern Pacific fireman, and the two proceeded to give Ryan a thorough trouncing, and then sat upon him.

Shortly afterward an officer drove up a neat single rig to make the arrest, but after sizing up the situation decided that the police patrol would be more appropriate. The latter soon arrived, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Hutchins, Captain Brown and Officers Mohman and Lever. Ryan submitted with ill grace to his arrest, and when it came to handcuffing him the husky churchman made things exceedingly strenuous for the officers before he was loaded into the patrol and taken to headquarters.

Since his incarceration Ryan has refused to eat or talk, but lies in his bunk sulking. It is feared that his wife's life will be in danger should he regain his liberty, and it has not been decided what charge will be placed against him. There is a possibility that his mental condition will be investigated, as it was claimed by his former brother priests of Denver that he was insane at the time of his elopement.

KING'S DAUGHTER TAKES HANDICAP

LOUISVILLE, May 14.—The Clark handicap resulted in a victory for King's Daughter today, who, waiting on the pace of Donau, drew away in the stretch to win handily from M. Green, who in turn saved the place for a half length in front of Crystal Maid. Spooner and Hanbridge ran away before the start.

Senator Lorimer and Officials Investigating Bribery Scandal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 14.—Governor DeWitt C. Davis, Attorney General Stead and State Attorney Wayman of Chicago promise to make a complete investigation of the charges of Representative Charles A. White that he was paid $1900 to vote for Senator William Lorimer. While Illinois is doing some investigating, the senate has also taken the charges under consideration, and a second Senator Clark scandal may result. Senator Lorimer has issued a statement in which he enters a general denial of all the points made by White and declares the case is an effort on the part of a Chicago newspaper to injure him in a political and financial way. Senator Lorimer has just opened a bank and trust company in Chicago.

NO VERDICT IN HYDE CASE AND JURY LOCKED UP

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 14.—Having failed to reach a verdict at 11:15 o'clock tonight the Hyde jury was sent to its hotel by Judge Ralph S. Latschaw.

The jury will be returned to its room in the criminal court building tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. If, however, the jury can arrive at a verdict at the hotel, they have the court's permission to do so.

By law a verdict may be rendered on Sunday. Judge Latschaw said tonight that in case of an agreement being reached tomorrow he will at once read the verdict in open court.

More than a score of ballots were taken by the Hyde murder jury during the regular criminal court here today, but no verdict was reached. Judge Ralph S. Latschaw has made arrangements to open the verdict whenever it comes in. If one is reached, either day or night. If he is at his home when the jurors come to an agreement he will reopen court and dispose of the case, he said tonight.

After conjecturing all day on the probable outcome of the jury's deliberations, attorneys for both the state and the defense admitted tonight that they had given up hope of accurately calculating the final result. The prevalent opinion among them is that the jury will disagree. If an agreement does not result the jury will not be discharged until some time Tuesday.

A large crowd stood and sat in the court room throughout the day. There was not the fight for admittance that took place during the giving of the evidence, however.

Dr. Hyde and his wife sat in a rest room with a deputy marshal practically all day.

Mrs. Hyde and several of her children waited a verdict in Prosecutor Conkling's office. Both sides of the controversy were of the opinion that the jury would disagree.

SON OF OGDEN MAN MEETS TRAGIC END

Joseph Williams, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams, was accidentally drowned last Friday at Idaho Falls. The remains were brought to Ogden last evening and conveyed to the home of Mr. Williams' brother, 1758 Washington avenue, where the funeral service will be held Sunday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ogden city cemetery. Mr. Williams was formerly an employee of the Shupe-Williams Candy company, and his many friends will learn of his loss with regret.

MAY STOP SUNDAY BALL.

It is not likely that the Cleveland club will play Sunday ball at home in the event that the Anderson bill passes the state senate and a referendum vote makes Sunday ball legal.

HUSBAND ORDERED TO PAY WIFE MONEY

In the case of Isabel Fisher against George Fisher, the defendant was brought into court on an order to show cause. The counsel for the plaintiff stated to the court that she was without means of support and without funds for the carrying on of the action now pending, and asked the court to make an order requiring the defendant to pay money into court immediately for the support of the plaintiff.

Fisher was in court and, in answer to the judge, stated that at the present time he was working for his board. The court ordered that he pay $20 per month temporary alimony, $50 attorney fees and $15 costs. The defendant is given until next Saturday night to pay $10 into court for the plaintiff's support.

Berlin Reception Pleases Colonel

BERLIN, May 14.—Ex-President Roosevelt's visit to Berlin will end tomorrow morning when he will leave at 11:40 o'clock for London. It was to be expected Colonel Roosevelt would receive a cordial welcome here, but the marked attentions paid him by the emperor, particularly the army maneuvers arranged in his honor, have been the subject of much comment, in view of the death of King Edward, and the mourning of the court.

Colonel Roosevelt dined at the American embassy this evening, having as guests the imperial chancellor, several of the cabinet ministers and the diplomatic representatives of several of the powers. A magnificent vase from the royal porcelain works, the gift of the emperor, was received today by the former president, who has expressed his great pleasure at the warmth of his greeting by his majesty and the German people.

ALL ENGLAND WILL JOIN IN SERVICE

London Absorbed in Great Preparations for Funeral of King Edward.

700,000 PERSONS TO LOOK UPON COFFIN

Thousands of Soldiers Must Sleep in Streets—Navy Will Take Prominent Part.

LONDON, May 14.—The whole court and all London are absorbed in the preparations for the funeral of King Edward, which will be the most imposing ceremony that the capital has ever witnessed. Thirty thousand soldiers will be brought from Aldershot and other military camps to line the streets on Friday, when the procession passes.

As there is no room to barrack them over night, the soldiers will bivouac in the parks and streets. The city will have the appearance of an invested town for two days.

It is expected that 700,000 people will pass through Westminster hall to look upon the coffin. Barriers are being built, by means of which the people will be ushered through in four lines, at the rate of 18,000 an hour. The body of the late king will not be exposed to view. The mourners will see only the coffin with the official regalia and heaps of flowers.

Flowers Valuable. The flowers alone contributed by organizations and individuals will represent many thousands of dollars in value. The most elaborate wreath was sent from Windsor, consisting of costly white flowers, interwoven with purple, which is royal mourning color. The wreaths contributed by private individuals, numbering thousands, will be hung on posts along the streets.

The artillery horses, with gun carriages, were rehearsing today through the streets along the line of march, so as to avoid the possibility of a mishap on Friday. Fabulous prices are being asked for seats in the stands along the line, $250 being the lowest sum at which it is possible to get a place. The householders overlooking Trafalgar Square have sent a protest to the lord chamberlain for again changing the line of march, which deprives them of eagerly expected profits.

Navy Takes Part. King George, being so closely identified with the navy, the naval contingents will take a prominent part in the ceremonies. Blue Jackets will draw the gun carriages to Windsor, as they did the carriage which bore the body of Victoria, although on that occasion they did so because the horses became restless.

The hymns which will be sung at Windsor are all of the queen mother's choice. They are: "My God, My Father, While I Stray," "Now the Laborer's Task Is Over," "I Heard a Voice from Heaven."

Soldiers from the king's company, grenadier guards, are keeping sentry watch over the body in the throne room at Buckingham palace. They are relieved each hour. With simple ceremony some one of the visiting royalties who are daily arriving enters the room every now and then, and the widowed queen goes there frequently.

Scotland Yard has all its detectives on duty, and these are reinforced by a hundred more from continental cities. All visitors are being watched, but there is little real fear of anarchistic attempts, as it is known that every one under surveillance would be deported from England if any trouble was caused on this occasion, and it is not likely that the persons of the anarchist type would give up voluntarily their safest refuge in Europe.

ACCIDENT AT SAN JOSE AUTO DRIVING PARK

San Jose, Cal., May 14.—John McDonald, driving a Winton car, lost the track at the San Jose driving park yesterday in an automobile race and pitching over the eight-foot embankment, crashed into a ditch. On the other side and braked, Paul Keller of Santa Clara, were injured, but neither seriously.

COW GIVES 98 POUNDS OF MILK A DAY

Columbia, Mo., May 14.—Chief Josephine, the Holstein at the state farm gave ninety-eight pounds of milk yesterday and has averaged 90 pounds a day since her tests began. It is claimed she will prove the champion milk producer of the world.

OGDEN HIGH WINS DEBATE

Local Team Carries Off State Championship With Final Contest.

The Ogden high school debating team captured the state championship at the debate held Friday evening at the University of Utah, Salt Lake, incidentally bringing home fresh laurels for the Junction City and inspiring their fellow students to do still greater things in interscholastic competition.

A series of tryouts during the past year had resulted in Park City defeating Salt Lake high and Weber academy, and Ogden defeating Granite and taking a default from Eureka. This left the honors divided between Park City and Ogden and the debate Friday evening was for the purpose of deciding the state championship for the year.

The question under debate was: "Resolved, That Tariff Should Be Levied for Revenue Only." The negative side was supported by Miss Matthe Horn, Fred Allen and Claude Coray of the Ogden high school and the affirmative by Miss Clara Kimball, Ira Sherman and Roger McDonald of the Park City school.

POSSE HOT ON TRAIL OF SLAYER

Spectacular Pursuit of Japanese Murderer Continues in Colorado.

DODGES BULLETS IN WILD MOUNTAIN PASS

Desperate Foreigner Crazy With Fright Leaps from Cliff in Hall of Rifle Shots.

LYONS, Colo., May 14.—Braving a hail of bullets and daring almost certain death by descent of a precipitous cliff, Genkayo Mitsunaga, the Japanese suspected of the murder of Mrs. Catherine Wilson in Denver last Saturday, late this afternoon made a spectacular escape from a sheriff's posse in the mountains west of here. With the posse hard on his heels and firing as they ran, the Japanese disappeared over a mountain ridge and swung himself from ledge to ledge of the precipice, reaching the bottom in safety. Before the posse could reach the valley by a roundabout trail Mitsunaga had stolen a horse from a neighboring ranch and found a fresh hiding place.

The horse was found later about two miles from the Japanese grading camp near here, from which it now seems certain the Japanese is receiving food and other substantial aid. Until he can be cut off from his source of supplies, his capture is doubtful.

Mitsunaga's spectacular escape this afternoon comes as the climax of a man hunt that has been carried on for the last three days. It was said two Japanese had been seen at a cabin near a deserted mine this afternoon. This lent added zest to the pursuit and the posse quickly left for the place where the Japanese had been seen. On the way the horse ridden by Stanley Sackett of Chicago, who had joined the posse, stumbled and fell, carrying his rider with him. Sackett suffered a badly sprained ankle, and was left behind.

Reaching the cabin, a short distance from the pit at which Sackett had been left, the posse found it deserted, but at almost the instant of their discovery heard shots evidently fired by the Chicagoan. Retracing their steps they discovered the Japanese running up the mountain side, Sackett hobbling behind him, emptying his revolver at him.

Mitsunaga disappeared over the ridge, and those familiar with the region, knowing that his pursuers were on his retreat, believed the man cornered. When the posse reached the mountain top, however, the man was half way down the side of the cliff, swinging from rock to rock with superhuman agility.

According to Sackett, the Japanese had evidently hidden not more than a hundred yards from the trail taken by the posse. Unaware of Sackett's mishap and believing that his pursuers had passed, he emerged from his hiding place in the bushes and catching sight of Sackett, fled up the mountain side.

Reaching the cabin, a short distance from the pit at which Sackett had been left, the posse found it deserted, but at almost the instant of their discovery heard shots evidently fired by the Chicagoan. Retracing their steps they discovered the Japanese running up the mountain side, Sackett hobbling behind him, emptying his revolver at him.

Mitsunaga disappeared over the ridge, and those familiar with the region, knowing that his pursuers were on his retreat, believed the man cornered. When the posse reached the mountain top, however, the man was half way down the side of the cliff, swinging from rock to rock with superhuman agility.

WHITE HOUSE STATEMENT

The publication of the Kerby statement evoked from the White House a statement declaring that there was absolutely no foundation for a statement that the president's letter of September 13, 1909, was substantially prepared for the president's signature by Assistant Attorney General Lawler, and asserting unequivocally that "the president dictated his letter, personally, as the result of his own investigation of the records and consideration of documents and papers in his possession at the time and upon the report of the attorney general."

It was further pointed out, both at the White House and by Attorney General Wickersham himself, that a comparison of the Lawler draft and the president's letter would show that the influences of the Kerby statement were unwarranted.

Mr. Wickersham alluded to the practice common in the government departments of subordinates preparing letters and documents for the consideration of their superiors, and their use by them in whole or in part as they might see fit.

Secretary Ballinger and Mr. Lawler were in conference for a long time this afternoon with Attorney General Wickersham. While they were so engaged at the department of justice, a messenger was sent out for a copy of a newspaper containing the Kerby statement. When Mr. Ballinger emerged from the conference he showed signs of angry concern, but declared vehemently that there was "nothing to be ashamed of."

ize for their interests, Mr. Cantrell declared: "We have done exactly what President Roosevelt told us to do. Does President Taft intend to prosecute us for carrying out the recommendations of his predecessor? Is this to be an indictment of the administration turning its back on the policies of the former administration?"

Mr. Cantrell spoke in support of his bill exempting from the operations of the Sherman law organizations of farmers who combined to obtain reasonable wages or reasonable prices for their product. "Although almost inconceivable," he said, "it seems to be a fact that this case had its origin in the department of justice here at Washington. The master mind of the Hon. Wade E. Ellis, the great Napoleon of Ohio Republican politics, it I mistake not the signs, he will meet his Waterloo in November under the forces behind Governor Harmon."

Quoting from a message of former President Roosevelt, to congress, in which farmers were advised to organ-

MISS ELKINS, THE DUKE OF THE ABRUZZI AND THE DOG

NEW YORK, May 14.—Blame it on the dog if the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins are married after a strenuous time. The duke and Miss Elkins have been engaged and disengaged so many times in the past two years that they come near to holding the record. A Pomeranian dog has arrived from Italy for Miss Elkins, and, according to the special circles of New York and Washington, the much discussed question is settled once and for all—the duke is going to win his fair bride. If a ruby ring, for example, had arrived it would not have caused much excitement, but a dog, and a Pomeranian dog, arriving—well, society has figured it out that the wedding is sure to occur now.

TELLS PLAN OF NEW LINE

Boise and Western Railroad, Says Burchard, Will Tap Virgin Territory.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14.—With the arrival in Portland of John E. Burchard of St. Paul, definite information today became public of the building of the Boise and Western railroad, as the east and west branch of the Hill system, which is tapping the virgin territory of central Oregon.

Entering Oregon at Ontario, the Boise and Western will build in a northwesterly direction. Bend, Ore., is expected to be the junction point for the new railroad line with the Oregon Trunk, the railroad owned by the Hill interests, and which is building into the heart of Oregon by way of the Deschutes river.

Announcement also is made of the final closing of the largest real estate transaction, from the amount of acreage involved, ever consummated in the United States and the organization of the Oregon and Western Colonization company, with a capitalization of $12,000,000. Transfers of the $600,000 acre grant from the owners of the Willamette valley and Cascade Mountain Wagon Road company to the Oregon and Western Colonization company were completed today in New York.

GIVEN TWO YEARS FOR CRIME HERE

Frank Baker, charged with burglary in the third degree, to which he had pleaded guilty, was sentenced to two years in the state prison Saturday morning by Judge J. H. Howell.

He was arrested on April 24, when caught in the act of burglarizing the home of Bernard Hestra in this city.

Violent Speech for Tobacco Men

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The recent convictions of members of the Burley society in Kentucky formed the subject of an animated speech in the house today by Representative Cantrell, president of the American Society of Equity for Kentucky, which has been in conflict with the American Tobacco company.

Mr. Cantrell spoke in support of his bill exempting from the operations of the Sherman law organizations of farmers who combined to obtain reasonable wages or reasonable prices for their product. "Although almost inconceivable," he said, "it seems to be a fact that this case had its origin in the department of justice here at Washington. The master mind of the Hon. Wade E. Ellis, the great Napoleon of Ohio Republican politics, it I mistake not the signs, he will meet his Waterloo in November under the forces behind Governor Harmon."

Quoting from a message of former President Roosevelt, to congress, in which farmers were advised to organ-

BOMBTHROWN BY GLAVIS CREATES FURORE

Sensational Charges That Taft Adopted Letter of Dismissal Written by Lawler.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT SPREAD ON RECORD

Ballinger-Pinchot Inquiry Brings Out Allegation That President Used Words of Another.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Oscar Lawler, assistant attorney general of the interior department, of which Richard A. Ballinger is the head, did in fact prepare a draft of a letter addressed to Secretary Ballinger and in such a form and phrase that it might have been adopted verbatim and signed by the president as Mr. Taft's exonerating of the secretary from the charges of L. R. Glavis and authorizing the dismissal of Glavis from his position of special agent of the interior department.

This draft by Mr. Lawler was delivered this afternoon to the Ballinger-Pinchot committee and ordered spread upon the records of the investigation. Careful comparison of the Lawler draft with the letter of the president shows that Mr. Taft did in fact adopt practically verbatim two short paragraphs of Mr. Lawler's language. The substance of the two documents is otherwise widely dissimilar.

The subject was on every tongue tonight in Washington, where almost every man, woman and child is bitterly either Ballinger or Pinchot partisan.

Evidence Destroyed

The thing came to a head today in the publication of a statement, attributed to Frederick W. Kerby, one of the stenographers in the office of Secretary Ballinger, in which Kerby related at length the circumstances under which he alleged the Lawler draft to have been prepared. Kerby asserted further that all of the preliminary drafts used in the preparation of the letter were burned in a grate in the interior department at the suggestion and under the supervision of Don A. Carr, Mr. Ballinger's private secretary. Kerby drew the inference that the Lawler draft had been adopted by the president essentially as his own; that Mr. Ballinger and his legal advisers had, therefore, virtually prepared the exonerating which Mr. Taft had issued over his own signature.

Almost simultaneously with the publication of the Kerby statement Attorney General Wickersham sent to the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee, then in session, a copy of the Lawler draft, accompanied by a letter to Chairman Nelson, in which Mr. Wickersham declared the document had been overlooked in sending the papers requisitioned by the committee at the behest of Attorney Brandeis.

White House Statement

The publication of the Kerby statement evoked from the White House a statement declaring that there was absolutely no foundation for a statement that the president's letter of September 13, 1909, was substantially prepared for the president's signature by Assistant Attorney General Lawler, and asserting unequivocally that "the president dictated his letter, personally, as the result of his own investigation of the records and consideration of documents and papers in his possession at the time and upon the report of the attorney general."

It was further pointed out, both at the White House and by Attorney General Wickersham himself, that a comparison of the Lawler draft and the president's letter would show that the influences of the Kerby statement were unwarranted.

Mr. Wickersham alluded to the practice common in the government departments of subordinates preparing letters and documents for the consideration of their superiors, and their use by them in whole or in part as they might see fit.

Secretary Ballinger and Mr. Lawler were in conference for a long time this afternoon with Attorney General Wickersham. While they were so engaged at the department of justice, a messenger was sent out for a copy of a newspaper containing the Kerby statement. When Mr. Ballinger emerged from the conference he showed signs of angry concern, but declared vehemently that there was "nothing to be ashamed of."

EXTRA PRIZES GIVEN

IN ADDITION TO THE $4,000 IN VALUABLE PRIZES ALREADY ADVERTISED WE ARE GOING TO GIVE TWO EXTRA PRIZES.

READ THE BIG AD IN TODAY'S ISSUE